PVH is proud to partner with leading organizations committed to helping drive fashion forward – for good in sustainability, philanthropy, and inclusion & diversity.

As one of the world’s largest global lifestyle companies in the world, we recognize the opportunity and our responsibility to take a stand for what is right.

Here’s what they have to say:

SAVE THE CHILDREN
“PVH has been a committed partner to Save the Children for more than a decade,” said Carolyn Miles, President and CEO of Save the Children. “We are so grateful for their support of children from preschoolers to young adults.”

COUNCIL OF FASHION DESIGNERS OF AMERICA (CFDA)
“PVH is one of the first fashion companies to be certified as a Great Place to Work – a testament to the way PVH treats its associates. In my efforts to understand how fashion companies work to be inclusive and diverse, I reached out to a number of companies and in conversation with PVH, I was so impressed with what they were doing,” said Steven Kolb, President and CEO of the CFDA.

FASHION FOR GOOD
Katrin Ley, Managing Director of Fashion for Good, on the partnership with PVH: “PVH Corp. has a strong legacy in corporate responsibility, which it is advancing through innovative approaches to social and environmental issues. This makes it an ideal partner for Fashion for Good. Together, we will focus on innovations that offer better alternatives and enable transparency and traceability across the value chain, from source to store, with the ultimate aim to make fashion a force for good.”

WWF formerly World Wildlife Foundation
“As major trends like urbanization, population growth and climate change exacerbate existing water issues, water is not only an urgent environmental issue but also a risk to business,” said Sheila Bonini, Senior Vice President of WWF. “Water stewardship partnerships like the one with PVH are a commitment to the management of shared water resources in the public interest.”

SAFE HORIZON
“PVH and Safe Horizon have had a wonderful and vital partnership for 20 years,” said Ariel Zwang, CEO of Safe Horizon. “We are so grateful for their support — through both contributions and volunteer efforts — on multiple areas of our work. This includes our domestic violence programs and their most recent generous multi-year commitment to help us continue providing a safe space, warm meals, counseling and most of all, hope to young people through our Streetwork Project for homeless youth.”

THE FRESH AIR FUND
“Thanks to the incredible generosity of Tommy Hilfiger and PVH, over the past 20 years, 10,000 young men, ages 12 to 15, have grown from boys to young men at The Fresh Air Fund’s Camp Tommy. Built on a foundation of brotherhood, leadership training and mentorship, Camp Tommy provides a safe environment where boys grow into responsible adults. Our campers create life-long friendships, learn from their counselors who serve as mentors and role models, all while having fun in the outdoors. We are truly grateful for the extraordinary partnership provided by Tommy Hilfiger and PVH for helping unlock the limitless potential of the young men of New York City,” said Fatima Shama, Executive Director of The Fresh Air Fund.

True & Co began with a question: what do women want in a bra? Our community of women had a lot to say. So we listened closely, and began creating different kinds of bras and underwear, the kind that women could live in: soft, stretchy, supportive, pretty, confidence-boosting, and above all, designed and made for comfort.

We know how important it is to be comfortable – in your bra, and in your skin.

From our beginnings, True & Co’s brand mission has been to listen to the voices of women. When we dare to be true – especially when it comes to our bodies – thoughts, people, culture and ultimately the world we live in changes.
